Pastoral Notes

Transfigured

Two years ago, the number of the faithful attending Sunday Masses decreased dramatically. Many countries were closing their borders to international travelers in fear of the spread of the virus. Uncertainty was in the air.

It has been a couple of challenging years for many of us. But here we are, today, coming together as a community, with trusting hearts in the Lord.

Throughout these uncertain times, the testimony of many is: What would we do if we didn't have faith? What would we do if we didn't have hope? What would we do if we didn't have Christ in our lives?

Our Lord in the Transfiguration gives us a powerful testimony of what is to come to those who have faith in Him. The transfiguration of our Lord was a very powerful moment in the course of His earthly ministry because it is in this event that he reveals his divine nature and glory to us through Peter, James and John.

Peter's perplexity gives us a glimpse of our Lord's glory; for when our Lord transfigured, Peter realizes that nothing on this earth could make us dirty. Peter, though limited in his human senses, comes to the realization that our Lord's transfiguration is heavenly.

In times of crisis and uncertainty, we must cling to the Lord's testimony. He is to show us the path to heaven. He is to conduct us to work with one another to get out of the pit in which we might be.

As we participate in the Sunday Eucharist, concentrate in our Lord's transfiguration, so that we might go to the place where He is, for He says: "And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again and will take you to myself, so that where I am, there you may be also. And you know the way to the place where I am going" (Jn 14:3-4).

Let us, therefore, have an unwavering faith in Our Lord because we are lucky to know that He is indeed the Messiah who came to save us from our sins.

Indigenous delegates ready to tell their story to Pope Francis

In a few short weeks, Indigenous delegates from across Canada are scheduled to meet with Pope Francis in Rome as part of the ongoing journey toward healing and reconciliation.

The meetings, beginning March 28, are an opportunity for Indigenous Elders, knowledge keepers, residential school survivors, and youth to share their experiences and thoughts with the Holy Father. The First Nations, Metis, and Inuit delegates will meet with Pope Francis over five days, ending with a final audience including all participants on April 1.

Three delegates from Alberta will be participating in the meetings: Gary Gagnon and Angelina (Angie) Crerar, are representing the Métis Nation. Gagnon is a vice-president of the Metis Nation of Alberta and a cultural facilitator with the Indigenous Learning Services Program at Edmonton Catholic Schools. Crerar is an elder, community activist in Grande Prairie and residential school survivor.

Today, the Archdiocese of Edmonton has posted an interview with Metis delegate Gary Gagnon. It's the first of four interviews – the three Alberta delegates, as well as an interview with Fr. Cristino Bouvette of our Diocese. Watch video:

Share Lent | A Spotlight on Madagascar

In the capital region, which is afflicted by flooding and poor waste management, CDA has helped the residents of one vulnerable area to turn their environs into a thriving ecological village. Today, each of the 50 households involved in the project has a vegetable garden, a stove and solar panels. This transformation reflects a true ecological conversion.
