SEASON OF CREATION

September 1 (World day of Prayer for creation) to October 4

“Not only has God given the earth to man, who must use it with respect for the original good purpose for which it was given to him, but man too is God's gift to man. He must therefore respect the natural and moral structure with which he has been endowed.”

St. John Paul II (Centesimus Annus #38)

God of love, show us our place in this world as channels of your love for all the creatures of this earth, for not one of them is forgotten in your sight. Enlighten those who possess power and money that they may avoid the sin of indifference, that they may love the common good, advance the weak, and care for this world in which we live.

The poor and the earth are crying out.

O Lord, seize us with your power and light, help us to protect all life, to prepare for a better future, for the coming of your Kingdom of justice, peace, love, and beauty. Praise be to you! Amen.

(Pope Francis, Laudato Si, May 24, 2015)

Pastoral Notes

Humility

In 2001, I was blessed with the chance to summit Mt. Kala Pattar, Nepal. Sitting at nearly 5500m, it felt like a pile of black rocks when compared to the mighty Mt Everest and other surrounding 8000m peaks in that portion of the Himalayas, but it was nonetheless among the most difficult physical feats I had accomplished in slowly ascending to the summit of this peak.

I spent nearly 2 hours on the summit waiting for other members of our group to arrive and while basking in the majesty of the roof of the world, I spent a lot of time looking at Mt. Everest and imagining how climbers had attempted to summit the tallest mountain on earth.

One virtue that is evident among the best climbers on earth is a sense of humility in knowing one's limitations regarding making a summit attempt. The gentleman who led our expedition had admitted to me he had been unable to summit Mt Everest on 7 different occasions! The most difficult one for him to accept was when he and another climber were a mere 20 metres from the summit but knew that due to the high winds and incoming blizzard, that if they did not turn back now, they would perish.

Though not a Christian, he told me that it was humility that saved his life that day. It was a humility found in knowing his limitations and putting his ego and desire to finally summit Mt Everest aside so that he could stay alive and keep safe the client he was guiding to the summit.

Humility is a virtue that can truly save lives. Not only in humbly admitting our physical limitations and mitigating risks to keep us safe, but also in our spiritual life when we humbly acknowledge where we are prone to fall into sin or when we have reached our limitations that if we tried to ignore could cause great harm to others and ourselves.

Let us ask of Lord, who is truly meek and humble of heart, to daily teach us where we can grow in humility.

Words of St. Anthony of Padua

"The spirit of humility is sweeter than honey, and those who nourish themselves with this honey produce sweet fruit."
